

Paulina Codogni Ph.D.

paulina.codogni@gmail.com

PhD in Political Science, Assistant Professor in the Department of Central and Eastern Europe in the Institute of Political Studies of the Polish Academy of Science, vice-rector for international cooperation at Collegium Civitas (Warsaw), author of books on Polish contemporary history.

Paulina's research focus is on political transformation in Poland and on civil resistance. In particular, she is interested in culture and symbols of civil resistance, as a factor strengthening such movements in Central and Eastern Europe and beyond; strategies and tools of contemporary civil resistance, especially new technologies, civil resistance in the West Bank.

She has authored 4 monographs: Rok 1956 (2006) [Year 1956], Okragły Stół czyli polski Rubikon (2009) [Oval Table or Polish Rubicon], Wybory czerwcowe 1989 r. u progu transformacji ustrojowej (2012) [Elections in June 1989, beginning of the political transformation]. Her newest book on civil resistance of Palestinians in the West Bank was published at the end of 2016.